

Socorro Aggressor Guadalupe Island ~ Great White Shark Adventure! Sept. 27 – Oct. 2, 2022

Great white shark encounters at Guadalupe Island are nothing short of spectacular. Even the island itself, 200 miles from the Mexico coastline, seems magical. The coast of Guadalupe is 25 miles of rocky cliffs, but above this is dense forest, giving it the feel of an exotic, South Pacific destination. You can expect between 100 and 150 feet of visibility. We can literally see the sharks come in from beyond the anchor line -- nothing but clear, cobalt blue water!

All certified divers will have the opportunity for a minimum of three dives per day in the submersible cages—and your trip includes the opportunity for unlimited time in the surface cages. Divemasters are in the water during every submersible-cage dive to ensure your safety. Note that the surface cages open at 6:30 a.m., and diving in the submersible cages begins at 8 a.m. Both are available until 5 p.m.

Moreover, this experience isn't limited to divers! Bring your uncertified spouse along to share in the thrills and chills of this once in a lifetime experience!

All dives are from cages attached to the yacht and use a surface supplied air source or hookah.
